BIOGRAPH ESSANAY PATHE

THE MOTHERING HEART—Biograph
Always mothering something the girl came into her own. So through the mother spirit, she yielded to her young admirer's persuasions, he was such a sorry young person. Soon her sacrificing heart brightened the paths of her struggling husband, her own heartaches forgotten for her loved one. With prosperity came the idle woman, and a young wife's struggle against the truth. A new light broke, then darkened but shone again the brighter.

HEAVY FIRE LOSS AT BIGLERVILLE

Eight Thousand Dollar Blaze on Sunday Morning when Lawver Planing Mill was Destroyed. Carried Some Insurance.

The largest fire that Biglerville has witnessed for many years occurred shortly before seven o'clock Sunday morning when the planing mill of Emory Lawver was burned to the ground with all the contents, entailing a loss of $8,000. Mr. Lawver carried $3500 insurance.

That the fire did not consume several other buildings and a large quantity of lumber was due entirely to the quick and efficient work of the Biglerville fire company which was quickly on the scene and soon had several powerful streams of water on the big blaze. The planing mill was seen to be doomed and efforts were directed to save the other properties. In a half hour the fire was under complete control.

It is supposed to have started in the boiler room where a quantity of shavings and small bits of wood were stored for fuel. Neighbors saw smoke issuing from the building at 6:50 and C. E. Deatrick gave the alarm. The hose reels were rushed to the scene and the water was soon playing on the blaze. On the one side of the Lawver planing mill is the frame building used as a shirt factory, on another side are Mr. Lawver's sheds containing between $4000 and $4500 worth of lumber while on another side are U. S. Klinefelter's cooper and storage shops. With highly inflammable buildings on three sides of the conflagration the fact that the blaze did no further damage is a high testimonial to Biglerville's fire fighters and their equipment.

With the planing mill there burned all the machinery of the place, including a $1000 machine installed within the past few weeks for the manufacture of chicken coops which Mr. Lawver had determined to add to his business. Some completed work was also destroyed along with much material ready for use. Sunday afternoon the safe was taken out of the ruins and, after being sufficiently cooled, was opened. The contents were unharmed except for a ledger that was slightly damaged. A roll of bills was intact and came through the fire without damage.

Mr. Lawver's loss is particularly heavy because he had many orders booked ahead for this fall. He will rebuild as soon as possible.

Of his insurance $1500 was carried in the Munnasburg Insurance Company and $2000 in the Safety Mutual Company, of Lebanon.

BETTER WAGES FOR PICKERS

Claim the Apple Pickers Want to Share in Higher Prices Paid for the Fruit. Scare Story Starts from Arendtsville.

"Expert apple pickers in this district are on the verge of striking for an increase of wages," says a dispatch from Arendtsville to the Carlisle Herald. It continues, "They are offered $1.75 a day for men and $1.50 a day for women, but are demanding $2.00 and $1.75 a day respectively."

"So insistent have they become in their demands that the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor may be called upon to effect an organization, as at present the pickers are unorganized, and therefore unable to combat their affairs as effectively as they should. Growers are receiving $1 more for apples this year, say the pickers, so an increase in pay is not unreasonable."

"The Woman Suffragists of the state can find a very forcible illustration of the law of unequal compensation for women workers here. Male pickers receive $1.75 a day, while the women receive only $1.50 for doing the same amount of work, which means that they pick the same amount of apples each day as do the men."

When the above was called to the attention of the local news story greatly exaggerated the actual condition but it is admitted that there is some demand for more money, the pickers believing that they should share in the profits received from this year's higher prices for the fruit.

Some growers are considering the advisability of paying their men according to the amount of fruit picked. One man, they claim, may pick four times as much as another and yet receive no more pay, under the present system. Seeing this inequality, the better picker will likely slacken his pace and the grower suffers.

On the other hand, paying according to the work done would never do, according to other growers, who say that this will do away with the careful work necessary to protect the trees from harm and the fruit from being bruised. Several orchardists are conferring to-day on the best method of meeting the situation.

Tyson Brothers, among the largest growers in the county, have engaged all their pickers for the entire season at $1.60 per day. They have had many inquiries from a distance but prefer to give home labor employment so long as it is available.

The picking season of the earlier varieties started in earnest this morning and will continue for many weeks.

STATE CONVENTION

Local Interest in Coming Gathering of Sunday School People.

Local Sunday School workers are much interested in the coming state convention to be held at Williamsport. Thursday, October 9, will be known as O. A. B. C. Day. These initials stand for Organized Adult Bible Class. The representatives of these classes will participate in a great parade to be held in connection with the convention.

The Adult Bible Class movement in Pennsylvania has had a marvelous growth. The movement is interdenominational and confined strictly to adults of both sexes. The number of these classes in Pennsylvania will reach 7,000 by the time of the state convention. The Williamsport convention will plan to add 100,000 more adults to the Sunday schools of the state during the coming year.

Delegate credentials can be secured on application to the county corresponding secretary Lily Dougherty, Gettysburg.

EXCURSIONISTS CAUGHT IN RAIN

Railroads Bring well on to a Thousand and here. Heavy Rains Catch them Unprepared. Distinguished Party here by Automobile.

Sunday's excursionists from Central Pennsylvania and New Jersey were caught in a drenching rain on the battlefield in the afternoon and many of them, with clothing thoroughly soaked, were compelled to start on their long journeys homeward without any change of raiment.

The Pennsylvania Railroad brought in 390 from Bedford and vicinity and 227 from Rahway and Trenton, New Jersey. Both these trains came in over the Reading and 123 were added on the regular train while the Western Maryland contributed its usual quota. Hackmen waited at the Reading station from six o'clock until 12:30 for the excursionists.

Sunday's rains kept away the usual automobile traffic and but few cars appeared here during the day. The excursions were the last booked for several weeks.

General James H. Wilson, of Wilmington, Delaware, a member of General Grant's staff and commander of the body of cavalry that succeeded in the capture of Jeff Davis, was in town Sunday with Judge George Gray, of Delaware and Colonel H. W. Biddle, of Philadelphia. The party stopped at Mrs. Buehler's, on Carlisle street, and, for their automobile trip over the battlefield, James McDonnell was secured as guide.

STRUCK BY TRAIN

Accident on Western Maryland. Horse is Cut to Pieces.

Lewis Miller, Jr., about twenty-two years old, residing at Sinsheim, a carpenter in the employ of the Western Maryland railway, was seriously injured and the horse he was driving was ground to pieces under an extra freight train on the Western Maryland railroad, near Valley Junction, about 4 a. m. Sunday. It is said that the young man was asleep in his buggy when the train struck and dragged the vehicle about 200 feet.

Engine No. 760, attached to the extra freight train running westward from Emory Grove to Hanover, struck the vehicle. The force of the impact is alleged to have been so great that young Miller was thrown from the buggy. This accounts for his almost miraculous escape. He alighted upon his head clear of the track. His head was lacerated and severely contused. The horse and buggy were dragged a distance of about 200 feet. The vehicle struck the bridge, just west of the junction, and it was smashed into fragments.

Soon after the collision the train was brought to a standstill. Miller was picked up by the crew and conveyed to Porters, where his injuries were dressed by Dr. Sterner. He was later taken to the home of his father, Lewis Miller, Sr., at Sinsheim.

WON FIRST GAME

College Foot Ball Team Ran away with Normal School Boys.

Gettysburg College opened its foot ball season Saturday afternoon by defeating Bloomsburg Normal on Nixon Field 55 to 0. The Normal School team was weak, though plucky, and the game was no real test of the strength of the local eleven. Many defects in Gettysburg's play were apparent, however, and it will require exceptional development during this week to enable the team to make any sort of a showing before Penn at Philadelphia on Saturday. Poffenberger was the only consistent ground gainer for Gettysburg and he carried the ball usually for substantial gains. Hoar kicked seven out of eight tries for goals after touchdowns.

It has been decided to hold the annual meeting of the Women's Home and Foreign Missionary society of the West Pennsylvania synod at Chambersburg one week after the sessions of the synod.

WANTS NO PARDON

Paper Points Evils of Pardons in Cases Like Eyer's.

The Harrisburg Telegraph has this to say in an editorial concerning the effort to secure a pardon for William Eyer:

"What would be the influence if William Eyer, sentenced to be hanged, then to life imprisonment, were released in seven years, because he had repented of his act? It may be that Eyer is sincerely sorry for what he did and that there is no danger of his ever committing another murder, but that feature of the case is purely incidental to the main intent and purpose of his punishment. Men who, like Eyer, may be tempted to kill, will think of seven years instead of the gallows or a whole life behind the bars. It will seem to them a small penalty for the gratification of a moment's passion. Murders will increase and the public will demand that there be no more experiments with commuted sentences and that convicted murderers be hanged forthwith, instead of merely being locked up until the public had become sufficiently unfamiliar with their crimes to enable their friends, or well-meaning philanthropists like Mr. Craig, to get them out."

GOOD ATTRACTION

Big Vaudeville Feature Coming with Manhattan Players.

The appearance of the Manhattan Players at the Walter's Theatre all of this week, starting Monday night with the usual matinees, promises to set the pace for popular priced theatricals here this season, and if the patronage is not more than ordinarily good it cannot be attributed to the lack of effort on the part of the management, for no expense has been spared to make the Manhattan Players one of the leading attractions of the season. The Sisters Russell have been secured as a feature vaudeville act carrying over a ton of special scenery and electrical effects. They will present their spectacular dancing novelty in four beauty transformation numbers. The sisters present the Grotto dance with a wealth of scenery followed by the radium dance in the flashes of many colored lights, after which Nellie Russell appears on the rolling globe, and finishes her act with a beautiful rainbow scene when both sisters appear dancing in a night scene of a snow storm. Ladies' 15 cent tickets are being issued for Monday night.—advertisement

COUNSEL FOR MANAGERS OF IMPEACHMENT TRIAL

STOCK FORGERY YIELD $76,725

Missing Treasurer's Books Bring Startling Disclosures.

Somerset, Pa., Sept. 22.—Startling revelations regarding the raising of a number of shares on certificates of stock of the Somerset Telephone company followed a search of the office of Attorney Harvey M. Berkeley, former secretary and treasurer of the company, who has been mysteriously missing since Aug. 21.

The office was opened on an order issued by the Somerset court, on petition of creditors of Samuel D. Live-good, president of the defunct Farmers' bank, of Meyersdale, for whom Berkeley had been assignee for six or seven years.

The safe in Berkeley's office was opened with difficulty. According to books found in the office a total of 3069 shares of fictitious stock was issued, representing, at par value, $76, 725.

Because of the absence of stubs in the company's stock book it is not known whether a total of 480 other shares was raised. The stock was issued at $25 par, but until recently sold at from $35 to $40.

It was also learned that stock certificates were raised from ten to 120 times their original value. One certificate was raised from three shares to 240, and another from one share to 120. In all twenty certificates were raised.

The stock was used as collateral to secure loans. None of it was sold outright.

FATAL JOY RIDE

One Killed, Two Dying, When Auto
Crashes Into Steel Post.

Philadelphia, Sept. 22.—One man is dead and two others are dying as the result of a joy ride on Market street
in a powerful automobile.

The machine, which was "borrowed"
without permission from the garage of the owner, belonged to a wealthy lawyer residing at the Bellevue-Stratford hotel.

The big machine, racing with terrific speed, hit a steel post of the elevated structure, hurling all three occupants from their seats and completely demolishing the machine.

The car, which was the property of Joseph C. Slattery, was taken from the garage by his chauffeur, Joseph Hickey, nineteen years old, who was driving it when the crash occurred, and a friend, Thomas White, who was badly injured. The man killed was Bertram Price, who was picked up on the way
by the party in the automobile.

CONVENTION BEGAN TODAY

Prominent Physicians Attend Gathering in Philadelphia and Important Subjects Are On Program.

Philadelphia, Sept. 22.—The sixtythird annual convention of the Pennsylvania Medical society opened today, when 2500 physicians from all parts of the state gathered at the Bellevue-Stratford to report the progress of the crusade against the propagation of disease and the advance in preventive medicine and all branches of surgery.

The program for the sessions, which will end on Friday, is divided into three sections, one covering medical topics, a second devoted to surgery and a third to the practice of specialists, and is one of the most comprehensive that has ever been presented by a state society.

Dr. Lewis H. Taylor presided at the opening meeting. Addresses were made by Mayor Blankenburg and Dr. Charles E. Codman, president of the Philadelphia County Medical society.

An organized medical movement against the social evil will be outlined by Dr. Edward Martin this evening.

The use of moving pictures to depict disease conditions and to illustrate the progress in medicine and surgery will be one of the features of the convention. A series of remarkable pictures showing the life and growth of germs will be given at the Friday evening session.

Other films illustrating the work in medical colleges will also be shown.
Of vital interest to the medical profession will be a remarkable series of radiographs on the diagnosis of conditions and the detection of nervous disorders.

The use of radium in the treatment of disease and the progress reached by scientists in the use of radioactive preparations and radio-emanation will be discussed at one of the sessions.
Important clinics will be held at the leading hospitals and an exhibition will be given in Horticultural hall.

Dr. Edward E. Meyers, of Pittsburgh, will have the mentally unfit as the topic of his discussion. The physiological conception of insanity and the treatment of the insane as patients, not simply as mad people, will be discussed by Dr. William K. Walker, of Pittsburgh.

One of the most important papers to be read at today's session will deal with the state's duty in controlling the sanitation of homes, the food and water supply and the elimination of conditions which propagate tuberculosis.
This paper will be read by Dr. Charles C. Harfield.

Dr. John B. Deaver will tell of the alarming increase in cancer and will emphasize the need of immediate surgical treatment. Dr. Samuel G.
Dixon, state commissioner of health,
will describe the state's crusade against tuberculosis, and Dr. H. R. M.
Landis will make an address along the line of prevention.

PIE TAKES WOMAN'S HAIR

Explodes as She Peeps Into Oven and Firemen Are Needed.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 22.—Just as Mrs. H. Vanderhede peeped into the oven of her gas stove to see how her apple pies were getting along one of them exploded.

As a result Mrs. Vanderhede is now suffering from slight burns on the face and her head is almost as clean shaven as a convict's.

When the pie, which gave every indication of becoming a juicy and tooth-some bit of pastry, exploded it set fire to the oven. Mrs. Vanderhede could not get her head away from the door in time and her hair caught fire and was nearly burned off.

When the firemen arrived Mrs. Van-derhede had just pulled her head out of a bucket of water. Great splashes of pie decorated the walls and ceiling of the kitchen.

SMALL BROTHERS SHOOT TWO OTHERS

One is Killed and the Other
May Lose an Eye.

Chelsea, Mich., Sept. 22.—Charles
Watkins, ten years old, son of T. W.
Watkins, of this village, while playing with an air gun, shot and dangerously wounded Clarence Gilbert, ten years old, son of Alfred Gilbert, also of this village.

The next night Edward Watkins,
eight years old, the brother of Charles, shot and killed Harold Gilbert, the twelve-year-old brother of the Gilbert boy who was injured. The authorities decided that both shootings were accidental.

The fatal shooting was found to be simply the result of play. The injured boy will probably lose the sight of an eye. The fatal shooting occurred when Harold Gilbert failed to drop a piece of paper at the command of his playmate. The latter in fun picked up a loaded revolver and Harold was killed instantly.

THIEF CONFESSES MURDER

Prisoner Tells of Having Killed Young Woman in a Cemetery.

Philadelphia, Sept. 22.—Arrested on a charge of robbery, Jacob Wolfson voluntarily confessed himself a mur-derer and told the police that for about four years he had wandered about the country in a vain effort to relieve his mind of the heavy burden of guilt.

Wolfson had been taken into custody by Detective Souder, charged with entering the office of the Vacuum Cleaning company, at 41 South Fifteenth street, and stealing some postage stamps and a small amount of money.

While awaiting a hearing in the night court he sent to Captain Cameron a note, addressed to the district attorney, which read as follows:

"I have committed a crime in Rochester. I killed a girl in a cemetery named Schumacher."

Then to Captain Cameron and Detectives Wood and Belshaw he told his story, which was telegraphed to the Rochester police.

"In August or early in September, 1909, I lived in Barnet, a suburb of Rochester, and lived in the city. On my way home I several times met the Schumacher girl, who visited the cemetery to decorate her father's grave.
We became friendly, and one evening
I attempted liberties, which she resented. In the struggle I killed her and that night buried her body in a clump of woods near the cemetery.
Since then I have wandered about the country doing odd jobs and came to Philadelphia to work in place of the striking garment workers."

Man Squeezed Into Eight Inches.

Hagerstown, Md., Sept. 22.—D. Ernest Wright, of Union Bridge, was seriously injured in the Western Maryland shop by being crushed between a moving engine, running to a turntable, and a door of the shop, being squeezed in a space less than eight inches wide. He was taken to the Washington County hospital.

VANITY BAG AS A GIFT

Most Appropriate Offering for the Young Lady Who is About to Graduate.

Many of your young friends will graduate this year and you are, no doubt, wondering what to give them.
Why not make them each a vanity bag? They are dainty and extremely useful, therefore any girl would be delighted to possess one. It requires twelve inches of four-inch wide ribbon of a plain design. Baste an inch-wide hem at each end and embroider a row of briar-stitching an inch from the edge on all sides of the ribbon. Fold the ends over and neatly whipstitch
the sides together.

Thread narrow satin ribbon through the top to form a drawstring, and finish the ends with rosettes of the ribbon. If desired, the center of the tiny vanity bag can be decorated with an embroidered monogram or a wreath of forget-me-nots and foliage embrodered with pale pink, blue or white silk to match the ribbon used.
This latter makes an especially dainty decoration, and is easily done, as the flowers are not padded. A wreath formed of miniature rosebuds, daisies or violets would be equally effective.
Within the bag place a handkerchief,
tiny mirror, powder puff, cake of powder and a piece of pinked lannel containing black and white pins. This little vanity bag can be placed in the pocket of the evening coat or in the muff, and is always ready to aid mildly when the occasion demands.

Nil Desperandum.

Percy Parkington rose and brushed the dust from his knees. Then, drawing himself up to his full height, he gazed resolutely upon the form of Miss Muriel Muggins, who nonchalantly fanned herself the while.

"Very well, Miss Muggins," came in bitter tones from Percy. "Oh, very well! You have spurned me, it is true! Indeed, you have spurned me twice! But, though despair eats my heart, I shall not die! I mean to go into the busy world. I will fight! I will win! My name shall become known and my riches shall become envied—"

"Pardon me for interrupting you,
Mr. Parkington," interjected Miss Muggins, "but when you have accomplished all that you may try me again."

PROVE SLAVERY IN PHILIPPINES

An Inquiry Shows the Custom is General.

GIRLS SOLD BY PARENTS

Children Bring From $50 to $100 Apiece In Market and Peonage Is Common.

Washington, Sept. 22.—That slavery in its most revolting forms—including the sale of little girls by their parents—exists in the Philippine Islands is amply proved by an official report received by the bureau of insular affairs from W. M. Phipps, auditor for the civil government of the Philippine Islands.

Mr. Phipps' report said in part: "I have no hesitancy in saying that I think that the charges that slavery exists in the Philippine Islands are sustained."

The report, which was called forth by the recent charges made by Dean Worcester, secretary of the Philippine commission, and filed with the war department several days ago, is based upon investigations conducted under the direction of the Philippine auditor by district auditors.

It was accompanied by a list of names of sixty-seven persons held as slaves, some being held outright and some under the so-called "debt" system, the fallacy of which is shown by the fact that some of the slaves so held are more than sixty years old and have been held by their present owners since birth.

Mr. Phipps, like Dean Worcester, says the market price for boys and girls is from $50 to $100, and adds that heads of families sometimes sell their daughters into slavery, and regard the practice as one of their rights. The current prices for slaves are given as follows: Children, three years old, $30; children fourteen years and over, $60; adults, $100.

"The almost universal report made to me by each person who has been asked to investigate," wrote Mr. Phipps, "was that slavery in some form existed to his personal knowledge; with a number it is a form of peonage, which is the most extensive form of slavery practiced here; with many others, it will be noted, it is the barter and sale of human beings by one person to another, who holds such person so sold to him in absolute subjugation, and they perform duties and labor for him without compensation further than scanty clothing, and in many instances indifferent food."

All of the district auditors, who assisted Mr. Phipps, were obliged to promise their informants that the source of their information would not be made public. The names of the officials who helped in the preparation of the report also are withheld.

One investigator made this report: "There is a considerable traffic in girls. I personally have had a number of offers of this kind, and it is a generally known fact that a large percentage of the Chinese who have Filipino wives actually bought them at a stipulated price. A recent instance in which I was offered boys and girls for the small amount of 20 pesos, 30 pesos and 40 pesos ($10, $15 and $20), was in August of last year at Cebu. Peonage exists in all parts of the islands and in many instances amounts to slavery."

The report is now before Secretary of War Garrison, who is considering the conditions set forth and the remedy to be applied. Drastic action will be asked by Senator Borah, whose resolution demanding information from the war department was responsible for the revelations contained in the report of Dean Worcester.

INFANTA OF SPAIN STRICKEN

Second Daughter, Like Second Son, Is Deaf and Dumb.

Manchester, Eng., Sept. 22.—Relatives of the queen of Spain have been shocked by the news that the second daughter of the queen, like her second son, will be both deaf and dumb, says the Westminster Guardian.

It is feared that the little Spanish princess is totally deaf, and unless this can be corrected she will probably never be able to speak.

The pessimistic reports of the royal physicians and specialists have nearly broken the heart of the queen. She goes constantly to the convents of the religious orders in and near Madrid to ask for prayers of intercession on their behalf, and particularly of late, on behalf of her young daughter.

Wife Bites Husband Who Tried Suicide

Trouton, N. J., Sept. 22.—The teeth of Mrs. Daniel Carlucci saved her husband from committing suicide. The man flashed a razor and tried to cut his throat. The woman grabbed his hand and bit it until he dropped the razor. Then she telephoned the police while he was howling with pain.

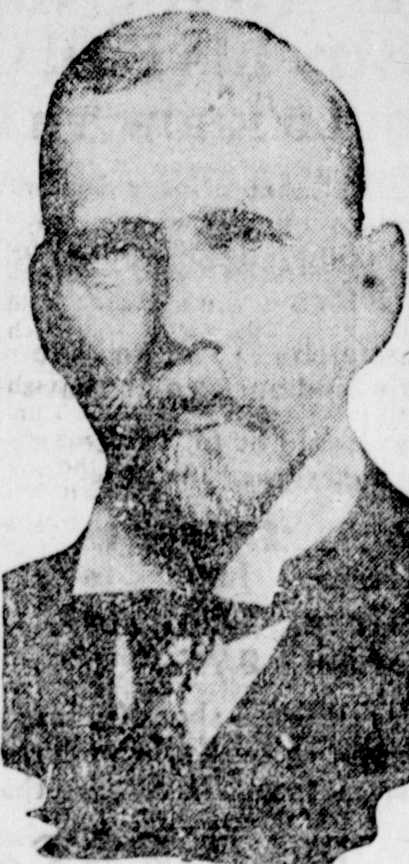

Knife In Pocket Kills

Menasha, Wis., Sept. 22.—A knife in the pocket of John Meyer caused the death of Walter Jensen. Following an argument, Meyer attempted to get away from Jensen by running, and in his flight tripped and fell. Jensen, coming upon him, fell on the knife in his pocket, the blade piercing his heart. Death resulted instantly.

BUG UP BODIES TO SELL GRAVES AGAIN

Ghoulish Ingenuity of Negro Caretaker in Cemetery.

Philadelphia, Sept. 22.—By removing bodies from graves and then reselling the burial places, William Lewis, the caretaker of a cemetery in Merion, is said to have made a very comfortable living.

Lewis was arrested upon complaint of the Ardmore authorities. For ghoulish ingenuity, the detectives declare, Lewis' scheme outshines any criminal plot they have ever unearthed.

Lewis had charge of the burial ground and sold all the lots. It is charged that he would sell a lot and immediately after the funeral service he would dig up the body which had just been buried and take it to an obscure part of the grounds, where he would bury it along with others which he had disinterred in the same way. Then, it is charged, Lewis would sell the more desirable lots over again.

Lewis had an easy time of it as long as the relatives of the dead person did not visit the cemetery too often or erect headstones. It is said that he took care to repel lots in cases where the relatives of the first person buried did not intend to erect a headstone. Frequently relatives visiting the cemetery mourned over the graves of other dead people whom they never knew.

IRON SHEARS BEHEAD HIM

Shocking Death of Workman in a Coatesville Mill.

Coatesville, Pa., Sept. 22.—His coat caught in the machinery while he was reaching across the big iron shears in the Coatesville rolling mill, Stephen McCarragher, aged twenty-nine years, an inspector, was dragged into the revolving shaft and met with a frightful death.

The top of his head was severed, his body almost cut in twain and his death was instantaneous.

Before fellow workmen could get the engine stopped the inspector's body was whirled around as a human spin-wheel.

The victim had used a small hammer with which to tap the strips of plate as they came from the shears, and he was reaching for the hammer when his coat caught in a bolt on the shaft that hurled him to death.

REPORT BIG ENGINE ORDER

Runner That Penny Wants 100, For $4,000,000, From Baldwins.

Chester, Pa., Sept. 22.—It is reported here that the Baldwin Locomotive works has received an order to build 100 locomotives for the Pennsylvania Railroad company of the same design of engines used on the company's line between Wilmington and Philadelphia.

The order calls for delivery in the early spring, and means an expenditure of $4,000,000 on the part of the railroad.

TUG HITS CUTTER; 3 DROWN

Death Comes While They Are Returning From Shore Leave.

Bridgeport, Conn., Sept. 22.—Three of the crew of the United States torpedo destroyer McCall were drowned in the harbor here when the "S" Seaboard collided with the destroyer's power cutter, in which four sailors, who had been on shore leave, were returning to the McCall. Seaman Thompson was saved by the tug's boat.

Train Crashes Into Auto Truck.

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 22.—Henry Foss, aged thirty-three years, was instantly killed, and Charles Zerfoss, twenty-eight years old, was seriously hurt when a Reading railway train struck a motor truck driven by the former, at Hummelstown. The men were returning to a farm after attending market and the truck was hurled twenty feet against a frame building.

SLAIN BY CONVICT TRYING TO ESCAPE

Two Colored Convicts Pin Guard in New Jersey Prison.

ONE TAKES HIS GUN

In Dash For Liberty He Shoots Down Deputy Keeper and Is Wounded by Dying Man.

Trenton, N. J., Sept. 22.—William Diamond, an inmate of the state prison here, shot and killed Deputy Prison Keeper Eli B. Stetser, of Camden, while trying to escape.

Diamond and another convict named James Johnson are in the prison hospital recovering from their injuries. Both are colored.

While the prisoners were being marched to chapel Johnson and Diamond asked to be taken to the prison doctor. Deputy Pierson was assigned to that duty. He let the men out of their cells, when Johnson pinned him to the wall and Diamond took his revolver away from him.

Leaving Johnson still struggling with the deputy, Diamond rushed to the center of the prison, where he encountered Deputy Stetser and Dr. Crane.

Diamond opened fire on the deputy and it was returned. Stetser before he fell put two balls in the arms of Diamond. Stetser was shot twice in the breast. Deputy Pierson got away from Johnson and he rushed to Diamond and disarmed him, with the aid of Dr. Crane.

Johnson was found frantically running about the cell house. He had plunged through a glass door. Stetser died in St. Francis' hospital outside the prison shortly afterwards.

When questioned by Head Keeper Madden, Johnson said that he and Diamond had planned the attempt at escape, but that Diamond had promised him there would be no shooting. They planned to get the revolver of the under keeper, but simply to overawe the center keeper on their way out.

Diamond was received at the institution in 1901 to serve fifteen years for burglary, and Johnson came from Essex county to serve five years for breaking and entering and for larceny.

Diamond attempted to escape two weeks ago by trying to scale a wall.

NEW ASTHMA CURE

Doctors Using Anti-Carbuncle Serum on Sufferers.

Philadelphia, Sept. 22.—Something new in curing asthma was tried at the Hahnemann hospital, when Benjamin Abraham, sixty-two years old, a rich manufacturer, was given a thousand units of anti-carbuncle serum. The treatment will be continued for seven days.

Abraham has suffered for years with asthma. Three years ago physicians attending him practically gave up hope of his recovery, but he grew stronger and the attacks grew less frequent. Later a large carbuncle developed between his shoulder blades. It grew until it became nearly three by two inches in size.

Acting under the advice of Dr. C. Dudley Saul, the carbuncle was drained and several hundred units of anti-carbuncle serum were injected. Abraham noticed that the attacks of asthma were not as severe after the operation and called Dr. Saul's attention was treated and the attacks again grew more infrequent and less severe.

Last week Dr. Saul advised Abraham to go to the hospital and have the carbuncle on his body treated, in the hope that the asthma might also be cured. A small carbuncle was cut and a thousand units of the anti-carbuncle serum injected.

FIND SIGNS OF MURDER

Knife, Poison and Clothing In Deserted House Point to Killing of Woman.

Port Monmouth, N. J., Sept. 22.—The finding of a blood-stained knife, a bottle labelled "poison," half filled, and a set of modish woman's clothing in a deserted house on a farm here, point to murder, the police think.

It is their theory that the woman was slain and the body stripped and removed.

County Prosecutor Applegate believes that the garments should furnish an excellent clue to the murder. There is a shirtwaist of silk, a silk skirt, shoes, stockings and underwear of good quality. The shirtwaist, size 42, bears the name of a Philadelphia department store.

Near the garments were also found several New York papers, dated Aug. 16 and 17.

Lightning Kills Fireman.

Salisbury, Okla., Sept. 22.—O. A. Farmer, of Mena, Ark., fireman on a Kansas City Southern passenger train, was killed by lightning in the locomotive cab as the train neared this station. The engineer received a severe shock, but was able to stop his train.

The lice that infest hogs may be fixed by giving the animals a dip in a solution of coal tar, directions for using which are provided with each parcel of the disinfectant.

BY THE GREEN MONSTER

By DONALD CHAMBERLIN

Janeway's business called him often away from home. One afternoon he returned from one of these trips glad to get back and, opening the door with his latchkey, went upstairs. In the upper hall he found himself face to face with a man he had never seen. He was well dressed, and Janeway, instead of taking him for a burglar and supposing there might be some mistake about his being there, awaited an explanation.

"I admit," said the man, "that this looks bad for your wife, but any man who will leave his wife at home for weeks, sometimes months at a time, deserves it."

"What do you mean, sir? Why are you in my house?"

"Come! Maintain your equanimity. Consider that by making a scandal you will injure not only yourself, but will ruin your wife's reputation."

Janeway was so paralyzed to speak. He simply stared at the man, who continued:

"Take your revenge on me, not on her. I will meet you at any time or place you wish and enable you to inflict vengeance upon me to your heart's content. I will give you an opportunity to do by me as I confess, I would do by you under reversed similar circumstances. But the real cause of our quarrel need not be known. We can invent some pretext."

"Where is my wife?" thundered Janeway.

"For heaven's sake keep away from her, at least for awhile! In your present state of mind you are liable to commit murder."

Janeway hesitated. A fiery furnace was within him. He knew the man spoke the truth. It was all he could do to avoid clinching with him.

If he had had a weapon he would have killed him. But one idea took possession of him—to get away, somewhere, anywhere, that he might free himself from a temptation that would put him behind bars and might bring him to the scaffold. He turned, descended several steps, stopped short and said:

"Your name! And where can you be found?"

"Edmond Trowbridge, Calumet club."

Janeway stopped for no more. Descending the stairs that a few moments before he had mounted with such pleasurable expectation, he rushed through the hall to the front door and went out. What he did during the next hour he has never been able to distinctly recall. The time was occupied walking the streets, but what streets are a blank to him. His brain was in a turmoil. Should he find a friend and send him to the man who had ruined him with a challenge? Not yet. He was unwilling to give his confidence to any one. Should he go to his wife and hear what she had to say? Doubtless her visitor had told her what had occurred and she was prepared for the worst.

He was lost in wonder how the woman with whom he had lived happily for a dozen years could have so deceived him. Could this person who he loved this thing really be his wife? Was he not asleep and suffering from a horrible nightmare? Was there not some mistake? Gradually his feelings so far subsided as to permit him to exercise common sense. What did common sense dictate as the first thing to do? Why, to go to his wife and hear her story.

It was 9 o'clock when he again opened his front door and stepped into the house.

"Is that you, dear?" came his wife's voice from upstairs. "Why are you so late? You telegraphed you would be home to dinner."

Janeway did not deign any reply to these remarks. He was trying to make his mind to the disagreeable work before him. He staggered into the living room and, throwing himself into an easy chair, covered his face with his hands. Hearing a step in the hall he withdrew them and saw his wife standing in the doorway gazing at him with a frightened look.

"Frank?" she said. "What under heaven is the matter?"

There was a ring at the telephone. She paid no attention to it, but, advancing, knelt beside him and took his hand.

"Answer the phone," he said, in order to gain time.

Going to the instrument she took down the receiver. Then she said to her husband:

"It's the chief of police. He says a man has been brought in with articles on him with our name on them."

Janeway jumped from his chair as though raised by an electric shock. Rushing to the phone he snatched the receiver from his wife and called for a description of the man arrested. When he had heard he took her in his arms and hugged her till she cried out.

"What does it all mean?" she asked. "I came home at 5 o'clock and found the thief here."

"When I was out? Why did you let him go?"

"He told me a cock and bull story."

"What story?"

"Why he said—he said—that you were dead and he was the undertaker come to measure you for your coffin."

"What assurance? Now I understand what you were suffering when I came into the room."

They clung together in an embrace. Fortunately for him there was no need for a confession.

Mr. Joseph R. Williams, of Alliance, Ohio, says: "I recommended Saxo Salve in a case of Eczema of thirty years standing, and after its use not a trace of the disease was left. It also cured a bad case of Eczema of the scalp, where the man had scratched so much it had become calloused and cracked open. It is all healed up now. I also find that one application does away with Ringworm. I keep a tube on my work-stand, and use it for all skin troubles I come across. I have had a good deal to do with skin troubles for the past forty years, but Saxo Salve beats anything I ever saw."

Hundreds of Gettysburg Readers Find Daily Toil a Burden.

The hustle and worry of business men. The hard work and stooping of workmen. The woman's household cares, often weaken the kidneys.

Backache, headache, dizziness, kidney troubles, urinary troubles—frequently follow.

A Gettysburg citizen tells you what to do.

E. G. McCammon, Gettysburg, Pa., says: "I first used Doan's Kidney Pills some years ago and I still take them occasionally although I seldom need a kidney medicine. I suffered for quite a while from weak kidneys and a painful back. I tried several remedies and doctored, but with little success until I used Doan's Kidney Pills. This remedy rid me of the pains and aches."

SUMMER NEGLIGEE.

Most women are making up the summery negligee now before hot weather really sets in. This captivating hammock gown is of pale lilac batiste with a short waisted bodice of all-over embroidery. A sash of lilac ribbon runs through a beading just below the bust line.

In the Nursery.

One of the handiest articles a young mother can have in the house is a low hall tree, which should be cut down to be only three or four feet high, and will be one of the most convenient pieces of furniture, for on it can be slipped the little long dresses and petticoats, which are most convenient when always within reach. Then it is a good way to air the little articles that come from the laundry. Cover with white enamel paint.

The bill of fare should have a variety. Fowls do not wish to be confined to a single article of food any more than men do, and it is not good for them.

Light plows are all right for land that is free from stone; but look out for your ribs where there are many stones. For such land better get a heavier plow.

Potatoes planted in old land or rich garden soil are apt to be scabby and worm eaten; a teaspoonful of sulphur thrown onto the tubers when dropped will prevent both evils.

It is muscle and bone that are required to withstand hardship and inactive colts never develop either like those which have the advantage of plenty of exercise every day.

Chilled eggs are responsible for a good deal of "bad luck" with incubators, but as a general thing eggs in the process of hatching will stand more cooling than many people think.
